

BUD BRENNAN & CLEVE JENSEN WENT WEST

When Bud and Cleve were about fifteen years old they decided that they would go to North Dakota and make some money with a threshing crew. They didn't tell anyone but Charlie, Jr. was around and heard the plans. When the freight train stopped in Farmington they hopped on. It was a Saturday morning, when Bill and Mary discovered Bud and Cleve were missing Bill got very angry and Mary was very upset. They drove over to Mame and Charlie Kohls to ask Junior if he knew anything. He didn't want to "spill the beans" Charles, Sr. told them not to worry, they would come home. Well, the boys must not have had much luck as they hopped another freight and came home hungry, dirty and with no money
