

AN IRISH WAKE

Irish wakes were great family get-togethers. The wakes were held in homes and several people would stay up all night with the deceased. Charlie remembers his Uncle Jack being the Life of the Party who kept the ladies laughing with his jokes. he also remembers that the room was filled with cigar smoke!